Solar Energy at a nascent stage with strong growth potential due to location advantage and government initiatives, finds Netscribes' Solar Power report

Netscribes (India) Pvt. Ltd., launches its Solar Power report covering the nascent industry in India. Industry has strong growth potential due to tropical location and government initiatives. The report is part of Netscribes' Power Industry report series.

Mumbai, India – March 5, 2009 – Netscribes (India) Pvt. Ltd., a knowledge consulting solutions company, announces the launch of its Solar Power in India report. The demand for alternate sources of energy like solar has surged worldwide due to global warming and shortage of conventional sources. Solar energy accounts for less than a fraction of the total renewable energy installed capacity in India and is less affordable compared to other conventional and alternative energy sources. However, due to tropical location and the government initiatives, India has the potential to become a solar hub.

The report provides a snapshot of the solar power market in India, including the installed capacity, growth and value chain analysis. Both, solar photovoltaic and solar thermal methods are covered in the report. Key trends and drivers in the solar power market are highlighted and a brief analysis of the major issues/challenges hindering growth is also included. Competitive landscape identifies the key players and highlights the investments proposed by each in solar energy.

The Solar Power report is part of Netscribes' Power Industry series, which also includes Power Sector and other alternative energy sources like Nuclear Power and Wind Power, and the Power Backup market.
